A nighttime photograph of Newbury Park High School. The building is illuminated from within, with large windows showing interior lights and curtains. The name "NEWBURY PARK HIGH SCHOOL" is visible on the right side of the building. In the foreground, a wet, reflective surface (likely a pool or a very wet plaza) mirrors the building and the sky. The overall scene is dark, with the building's lights providing the primary illumination.

Newbury Park, California
Volume IV

Not in the language
of the learned and wise
will I lift my song
to all living
on heaven's brightest star.
But through your language,
and mine,
I will touch the soul
of every man
who feels or cares or wants
or would like to love,
and touch.
I wish only to be
a poet of the caring,
and minstrel to the beauty
of the individual.

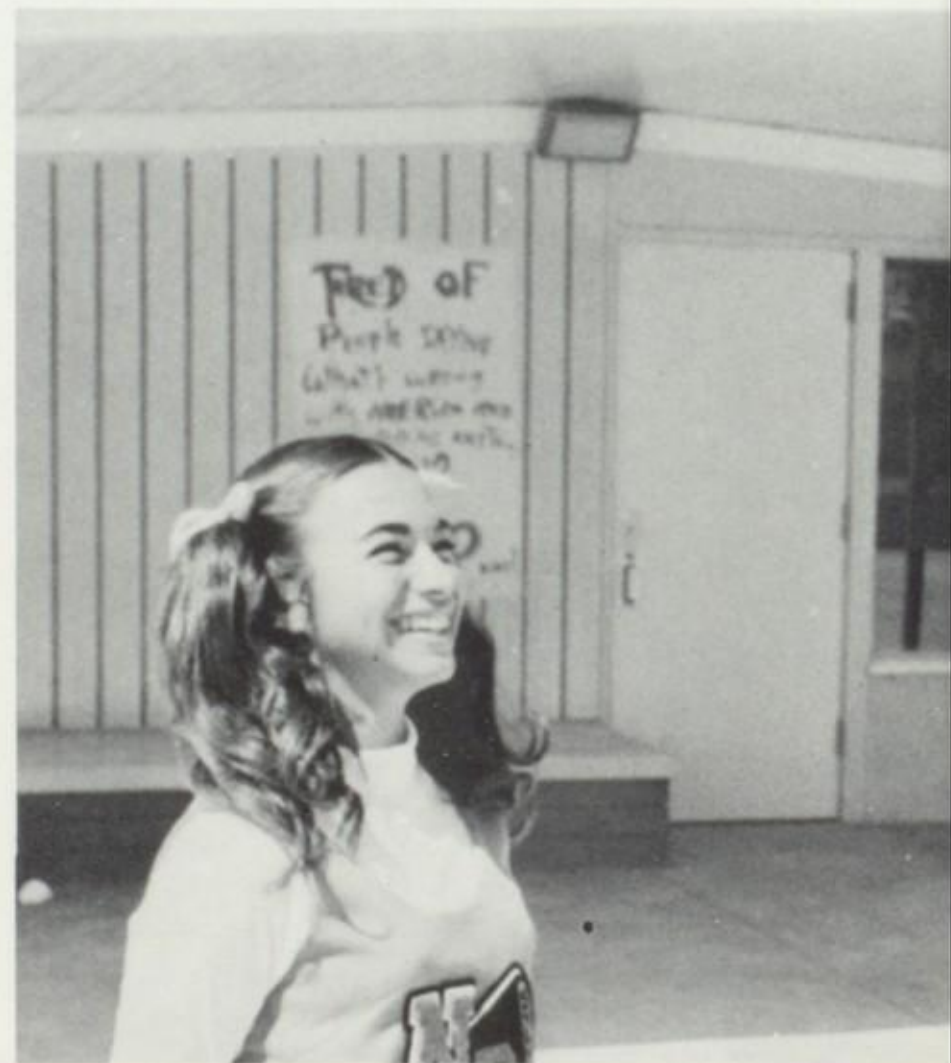

Mrs Danquist,
 This year has been really great in our 4th per. English class. I found great year.
 respect for you teaching
 for you tried to teach in with human life.
 Thank you for being you (that)
 (and I really mean that)
 Love
 Beth
 Green

I have felt the vibrant discord
 of my voice,
 and sensed the plaintive notes
 of joy and youthful sorrow
 echo from the farthest reaches of my being (of my own narrow reality)
 I have seen my simple song reflected in a friend's sudden smile (honest above all things)
 and in my own tears,
 and in your trusting eyes.

And with my song I will reach out and tear down walls
surrounding my existence.
I vow to touch other leaves cast upon the ocean of forever.
Unto these my song will become a lingering melody,
a hint of caring,
and a promise of hope.

Mrs. Dahlquist,
 I like to sign
 on to me this page because is a good memory. That have of you and your English class. At the beginning of the year I thought I was going to hate this class & I didn't hate the class, I enjoyed
 it. And your grading was ridiculous.
 I did learn a lot, so much ^{that} I think I now have an overworked, over tired brain, but I think it was worth it all!!
 Thank
 you for the memories,
 Ann Reno
 Class of '73

A fleeting image of my reality
merging with their realities,
A crumbling of ancient man-made barriers to love of every man.
My song will rush in crescendo
to the great final chord,
the note that is my being existing in harmony with the universe, and with change . . .

Mrs. Dahlquist,
I have been for me, this year has been a wonderful. I think you are a beautiful person
my teacher I could have you as my teacher I learned a lot from what you have said. I hope you will
years many happy and wonderful
years many happy and wonderful
God Bless you always.
Love
Eric

What can I say to you that I cannot say to you and I cannot say to you for helping me make it through the year. I appreciate your deep sincerity and strength.
Love Always
Mike

When this fulfillment comes
 I will cherish it,
 if only for the sharing
 and the giving,
 for it was meant to be
 and so it shall be,
 the rose and its name
 will be forever apart,
 while the fragrance remains constant,
 that ever we shall remember how I'd hate to be labeled.

My song must carry some of this truth and so much more that I cannot imagine it ever ending.
So, God,
Please let me live
forever . . .

no matter, you probably met a lot of people during your year because of your being in my class. I had lots of fun and it was a lot like now.
I don't know what you did but I hope you have a great year.

I'm so proud of him I could bust!!!

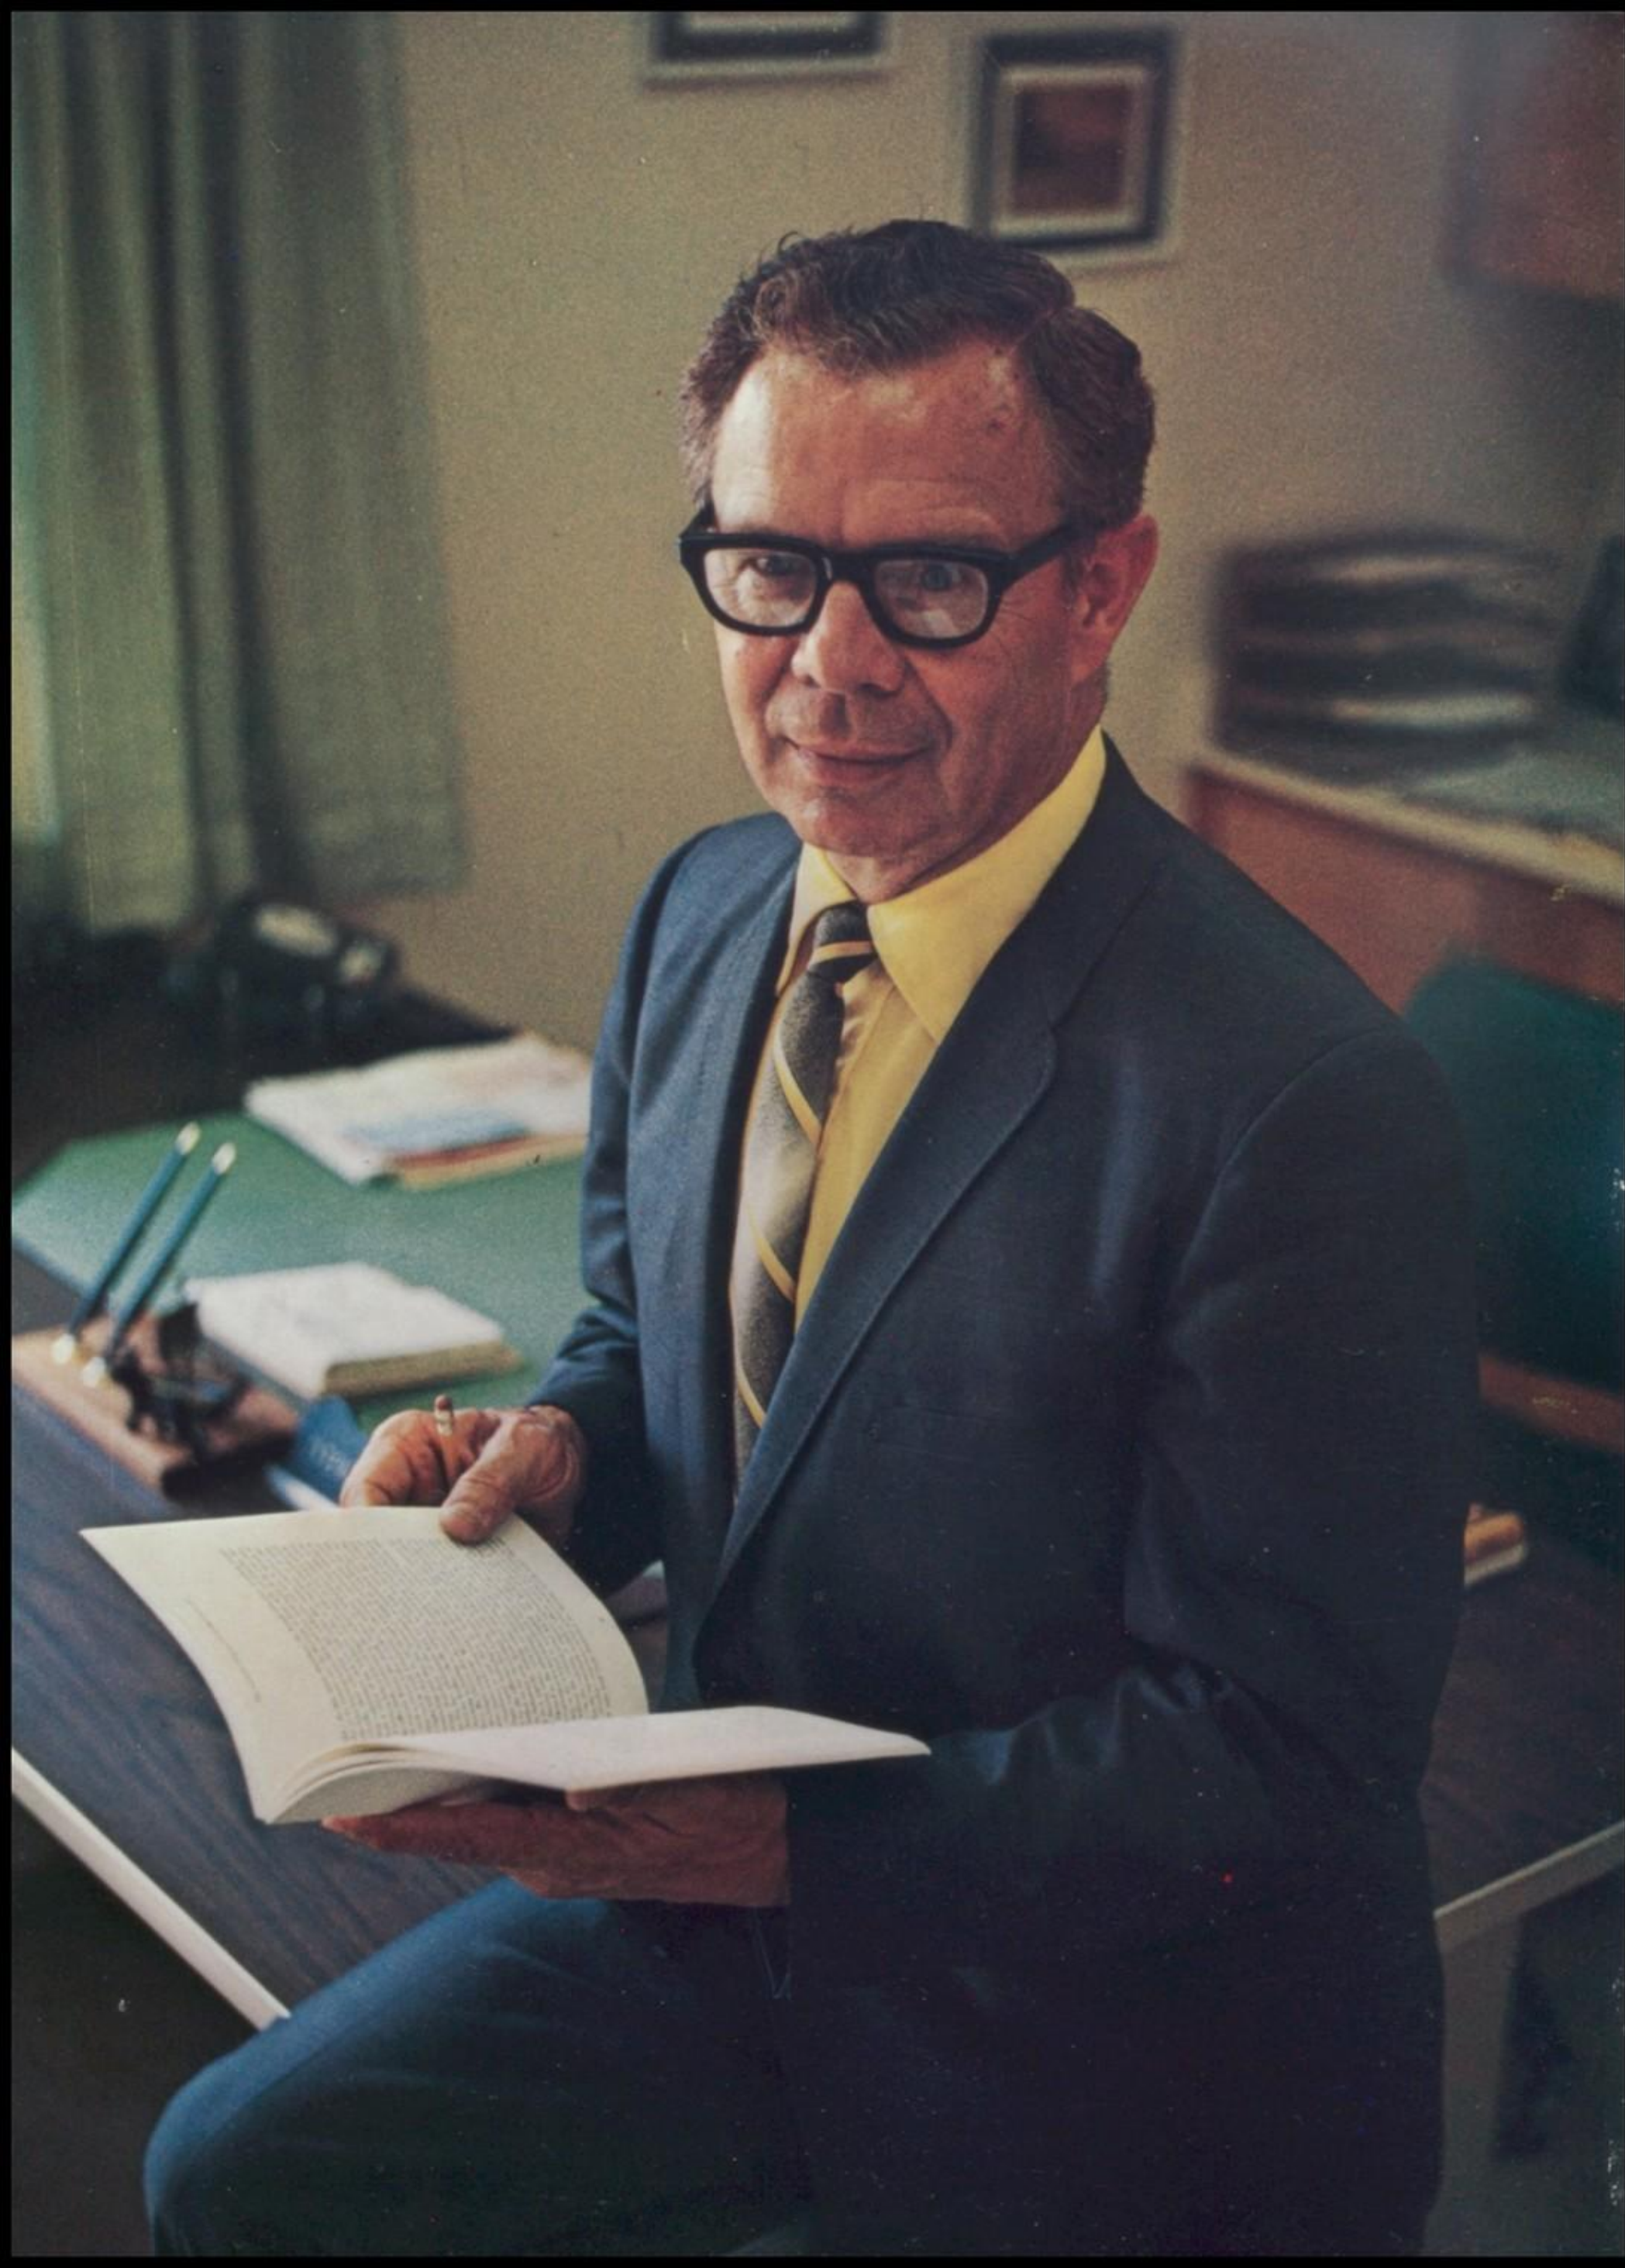

Dear Bearcat,
This page symbolizes
"Vision" since it is something we all have to learn to see through to get it. I thank you for making me see one
some of the things you are doing as well as seeing the things
Fellow Bearcats
see.

Mr. Smith proud to be part of NPHS

This yearbook is about illusions at Newbury Park High School. However, there are many facts observed by myself as your new principal that are not illusions, but are very real.

The school has grown in size and spirit; and activities such as music, drama, athletics, parties, parades, and Homecoming have been a big success. Academic progress is improving in all classes and among students. The P.T.S.A. as a new organization is working toward improved school and community cooperation. In addition, the faculty and staff have been working hard for the improvement of instruction.

As your new principal, I am very pleased and proud to be a part of this fine school.

New problems
confronted change
in stark contrast
to antiquated guidelines.
Administrators' role:
to maintain the
precarious balance—
at best transitory
success.

Mr. Jan Peters, Attendance Officer

Dear Mrs. Sublquist,
I have loved being
in your class and I have learned a lot
gotten so much from
you that I don't know
just how to thank you.
Peace
Love to you always Julie Hamelton

of good Blessings in your life.

Good Bless

knowledge seem to vanish upon entering Mrs.

her concerned, sympathetic actions.

Classified Staff

The many functions required for maintenance of a smoothly operating school are ably performed by the school's many classified employees. These indispensable individuals keep the grounds clean and provide students with desperately needed transportation and food. Their essential contributions should not be overlooked.

Miss Dorothy Taylor, Department Chairman.

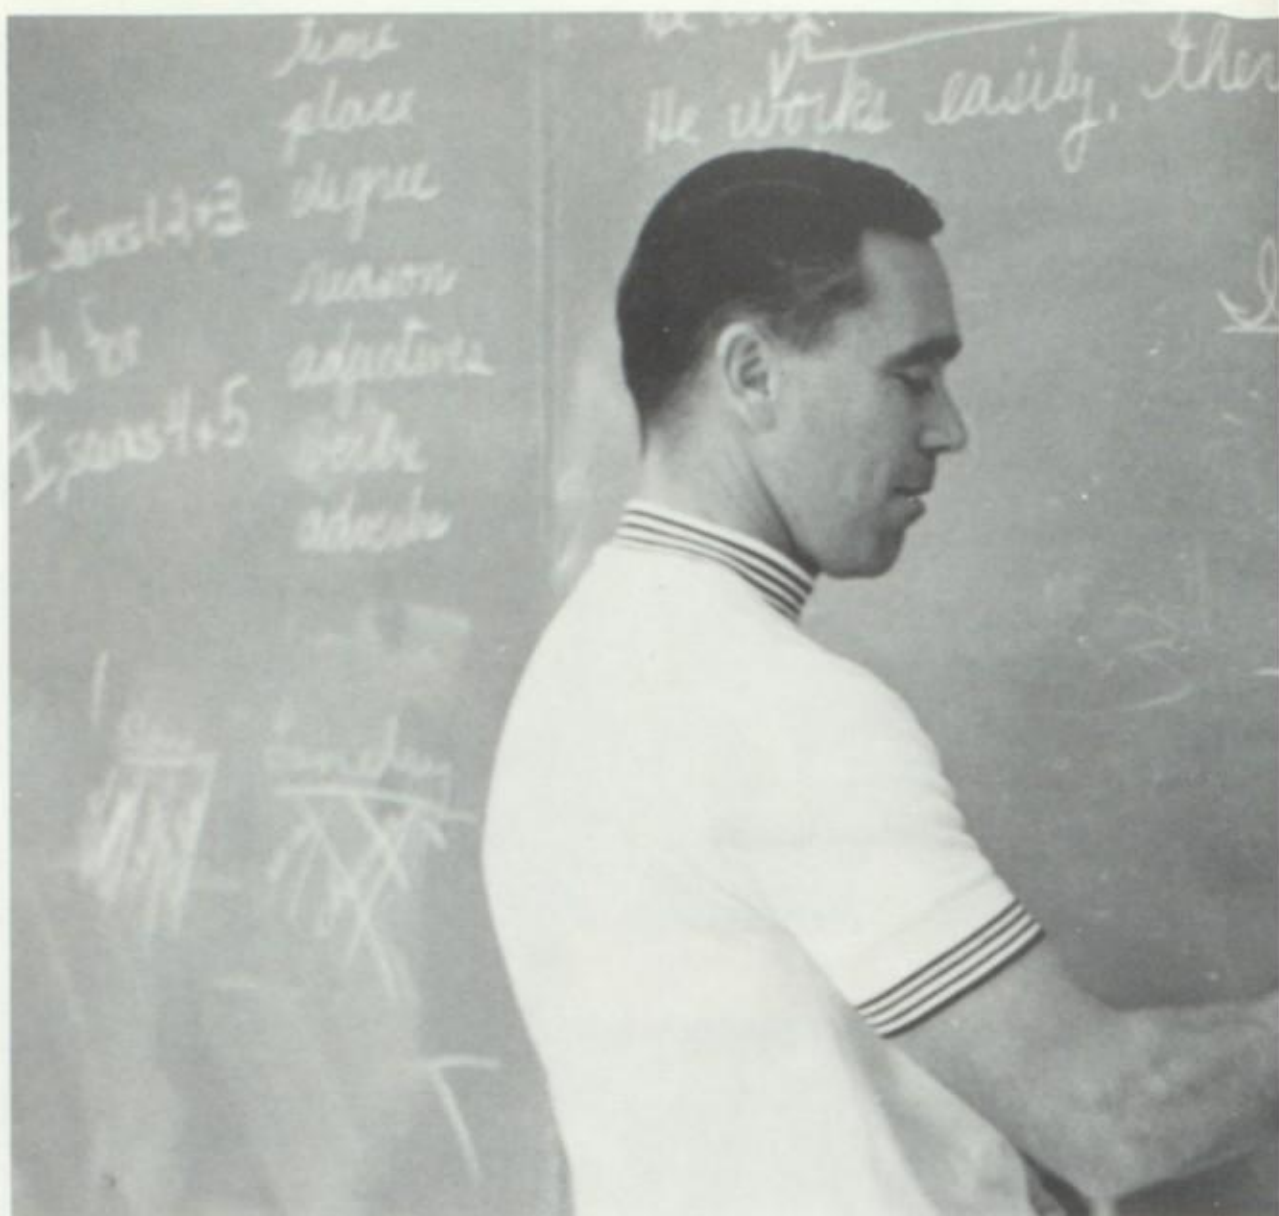

English

In that this language has served me
there is beauty.
It has told of quiet sentiments,
passions, and sorrows.
When it spoke perfect golden words,
I remembered them—
I heard them,
but I did not listen.

listened to.

perfect English
to ourselves?

Homecoming 70-71

Backpacking out is Chuck Bente and Wendy Anderson with Richard Minnich looking on.

During Homecoming Week, October 7-12, the students of Newbury Park got together to get to know each other through competitive games. The week started out with a rally and class competition. The seniors took the lead by singing the Alma Mater with volume and clarity. All week long during fourth and fifth period lunches, the students competed in various games, ranging from gunny-sack races to the VW push. With hands tied behind their backs, a few boys stuffed themselves hurriedly in the pie eating contest. After a full week of running, pushing, and eating, the seniors came out ahead, winning the week's activities with the other classes not far behind.

The Homecoming Parade kick-off included class and club floats, with sophomores coming out ahead. That afternoon the Newbury Park Panthers went on the field to defeat Canyon with a score of 48-6. During halftime the Panther band and drill team entertained the crowds. The band's fanfare greeted the arrival of this year's court.

As day ended, the evening's activities began. The reunion of the 69-70 seniors took place during the Homecoming Dance, the "Space Odyssey." "The 2001" theme song played as background to the flickering spectral beams of light.

Thank-you so much for all the help you have given me this year. I understand now why we have lectures and why you use such "big" words. I used to go home and try to look them all up! I probably will come in to see you next year. You are a beautiful person.

Foreign students flavor campus life

This year, the American Field Service welcomed Raffaele Catarinella of Torino, Italy, to NPHS. The club began the year with Monday afternoon meetings to plan the Halloween Dance which was held Friday evening, November 1. With the profits from the dance, the club planned a Christmas party, then launched into organizing the Third Annual AFS International Dinner. This highly successful community endeavor took place on Saturday, February 6. Spring activities included assisting with the AFS Talent Show in May, at Thousand Oaks High School and participating in a farewell tea following Baccalaureate in June.

Youth for Understanding sends Francis Rolland.

Francis Rolland found Newbury Park High School very different from the the all-boy boarding school he attended near Paris, France. Chosen by Youth for Understanding, Francis brought continental charm to the school.

The Varsity Club, which is headed by Eric Lund as president and Dave Abdalla as vice-president, consists of those who have earned a varsity letter in any sport. This highly esteemed club has caused many illusions to become realities during the year. Besides donating $200 to the newly developed wrestling team and buying the school trophies that they couldn't afford before, they have boosted school spirit by selling Panther seat cushions. Their main event of the year was the annual Alumni Basketball game, which brought back many basketball greats. This club has been an important asset in promoting school spirit.

GAA sports variety

GAA started out the year with tennis and volleyball, which proved fun for the girls. Next on the agenda was basketball which consists of an "A" and sometimes a "B" team. The girls bowl away the Monday "blahs" by hopping a bus to the local bowling alley. They round out the year with softball.

Band swings with fresh ideas

With Mr. Peter Fisher's imaginative knowledge and Dave Borquist's leadership, the Varsity Band marched into formation for half-time shows at football and basketball games. The campus was serenaded at lunch and after school as the band perfected their numbers and routines.

In a more mellow mood, the Concert Band softly conveyed illusions. The holiday season glowed brighter at the Christmas Concert as the band performed with Black Orpheus and Girls' Glee.

CSF

California Scholarship Federation is a club for honor students. Members are given special privileges during the year. The club is allowed one field trip each semester, and their bus is provided free of charge. Students who qualify for CSF four times during the last six semesters of high school, one of which is in the senior year, are awarded life membership. They receive a pin and special seal on their diploma. Being a life member helps students in winning scholarships or getting jobs.

With Debbie Seiberlich heading the club as president, the Folksingers have come a long way since forming this fall. At the Christmas assembly, the members entertained the student body with "Marvelous Toy." The club introduced the new idea of "singing valentines" which was greeted with enthusiasm from the students.

Girls League

"Hey, Charlie, you're on my foot."

Aided by several girls who were really willing to work for the club, Girls' League was able to sponsor several activities this year. After getting off to a quick start by presenting a Calamity's Fashion Show at an all girl assembly, the club set to work for this year's big project, the Christmas Dance.

As spring vacation approached, the girls were busy on sewing machines, making garters for Hush Day.

From decorating cars for the March of Dimes to serving for the Sports Banquet, Girls' League strived to fulfill its purpose of promoting school and community activities.

These projects ranged from sending valentines to "Old Darlings" to selling cookbooks with recipes that teachers donated. FHA stands for the Future Homemakers of America. It is a club that is involved with the community and prepares the girls to live their lives to the fullest potential.

"The purpose of our club is to further our knowledge of business to the world," explains Mr. Gary Reed, advisor of FBLA. Future Business Leaders of America has 15 to 20 members. This year, the musical accomplishment of Newbury Park High reached its peak as the Black Orpheus choir began its fourth year. With 90 students in the group, the fund-raising activities were successful enough to net the choir over $1,000 and a chance to take a long-awaited singing tour. Their most successful activities were three car washes, Christmas concert, and a spring show at the Oxnard Auditorium that showcased some original music written and arranged by the choir. With the talent and initiative that the choir has shown this year, it is evident that good things sometimes come in large packages.

The 1971 Pawprint Staff, in an effort to produce a better yearbook, increased the number of pages to 232 and expanded the color in the introductory section.

Using the theme "Illusions", the staff made an effort to combine photography and copy in a meaningful manner that would relate to as many students as possible.

Highlights of the year included many late hour deadline parties and many headaches in general. During the spring, the staff journeyed to Covina to see the book being published at the Taylor Publishing Company.

Sports

Varsity goes all the way

A seemingly impossible dream has finally come true—the Panther Varsity team, playing for the first time in a new, larger league, earned the title of 1970 Marmonte League Champions.

Although the season began poorly with a loss to Agoura, 7-6, the big black and gold machine quickly recovered. They finished the season with only one more loss, to Hart, and a tie with Thousand Oaks in a 48-48 thriller. The Panthers vanquished such powerhouses as Oxnard, Royal, St. Bonnie, Rio Mesa, Simi, and Canyon High Schools.

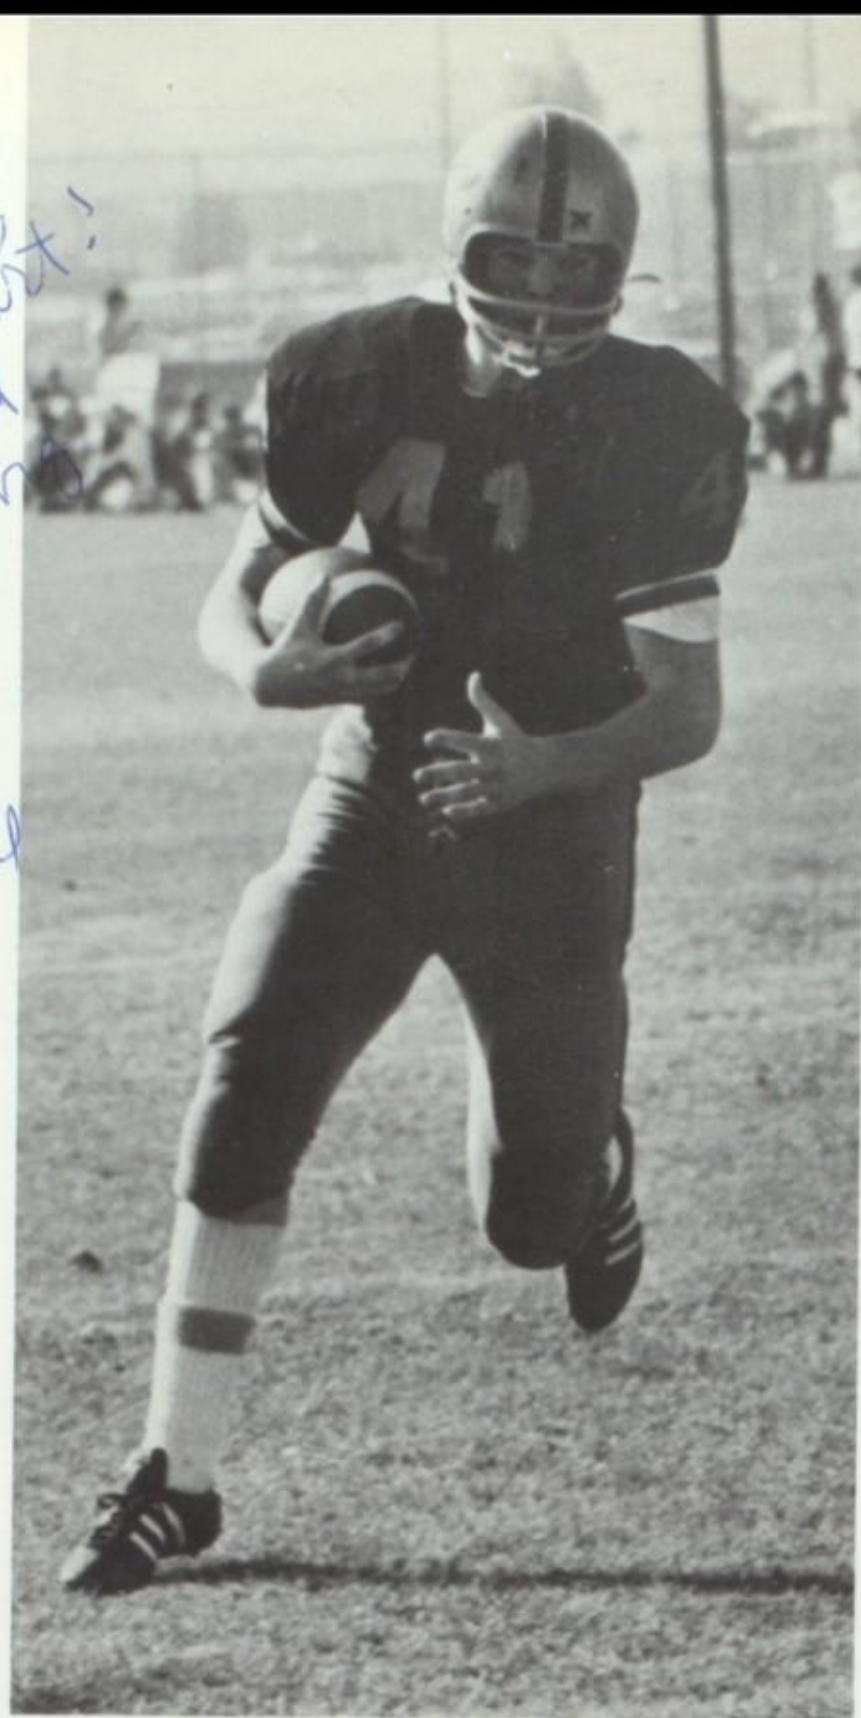

In a heartbreaking contest at Lompoc, Panthers' hopes of a CIF crown were spoiled by the Braves in their first semi-final playoff game.

Because many of this year's juniors have gained valuable experience, Coach Chris Pagliaro has hopes for an even better Panther effort in 1971.

Mrs. Daulton
 Believe it or not I'm so glad I have you as a teacher. I learned so much from you.
 I never understood what you had meant, when you talked about "light and dark" and about letting "God shine through you!" But recently I had a most beautiful experience! I met and knew Jesus Christ. I had told you how I felt before. In fact I hated everyone,
 I had nothing but hate in my heart!
 Now I am so happy, that I could cry of happiness! I have nothing but love in my heart! You are my sister and always will.
 Love you, and always you will thank - You so much!
 always be an inspiration to me, wherever I go!

This was not the year of the JV team. That old lady luck did not shine on Coach Bob Thomas and his grid-ders. After two years as league champions, the Sophomores ended the season with a 5-5 record and 2-3 league record.

Coach Thomas commented, "In four of our games, we completely shut out the opposing teams. We had a very strong defense, and I think this will be a tremendous asset to next year's varsity."

Some of the stars of the JV team were: Most Valuable Player, Jim Gibson; Outstanding Back, Steve Cannon; Outstanding Lineman, Tom Posey; Most Inspirational Player, Bill Brueklender, and Outstanding Pass Receiver, Tim Mortimer.

Things went well for the Frosh. Coach Bob Kniseley's gridders proved that the varsity were not the only champions at Newbury Park as they became Freshman League Champions.

Junior Varsity

Coach Bob Cummings had a great deal to say about the year's J.V. Team. "Many things we accomplished this year didn't show in the won-lost column, but will show in the future when many of these ball players will, hopefully, be playing Varsity basketball."

Although the J.V. team had a 7-14 record, Coach Cummings was still very proud. "We improved a great deal this season. In our last game, we beat an all-junior team."

Mike Clemens goes for two points.....

Dave Dorsey goes up high for a rebound.

The Cees went all the way this year, winning the championship for their part of the league. Coach Paul Coffman's cagers were stand-outs all year, proving that the Cees can do as well as the varsity. Donny Whittig and Tim Raasch will be a welcome addition to a future varsity.

Frosh try harder

Bob Hendricks coached the Frosh basketballers. They had a losing season this year, but their 2-12 record conceals how much they had improved. In their first six games, the team lost by a total of 102 points, for an average of a little over 18 points per game. In the second half of the season, they won two games and lost four by a total of 35 points. The losses averaged slightly more than eight points per game.

At the basketball banquet, Dirk Small and Larry Pentis were named co-captains of the Frosh team. Mark Ellrott was honored as the season high scorer with 242 points.

Coach Hendricks believes, "If they continue to improve at the rate which they improved this year, they will be Varsity material by the time they are seniors."

This was the last year for such standouts as Bill Marshall and Walt Smith, four year stars on the tennis courts.

GAA

Girl's Athletic Association is a club for girls who like sports and being with other people. It begins in the fall with tennis and volleyball. Basketball and bowling are next; then in the Spring there are softball and archery.

GAA's most important function is to bring together girls from all schools in the Oxnard District and Agoura. Lynn Larsen, president of GAA, feels, "Any girl could find something of interest in GAA. Not only does it offer team sports, but also more individualized ones.

Today's expanding interest in recreation and health are making girl's sports more important."

Lynn Larsen and Eileen Reeds keep their eye on the ball.

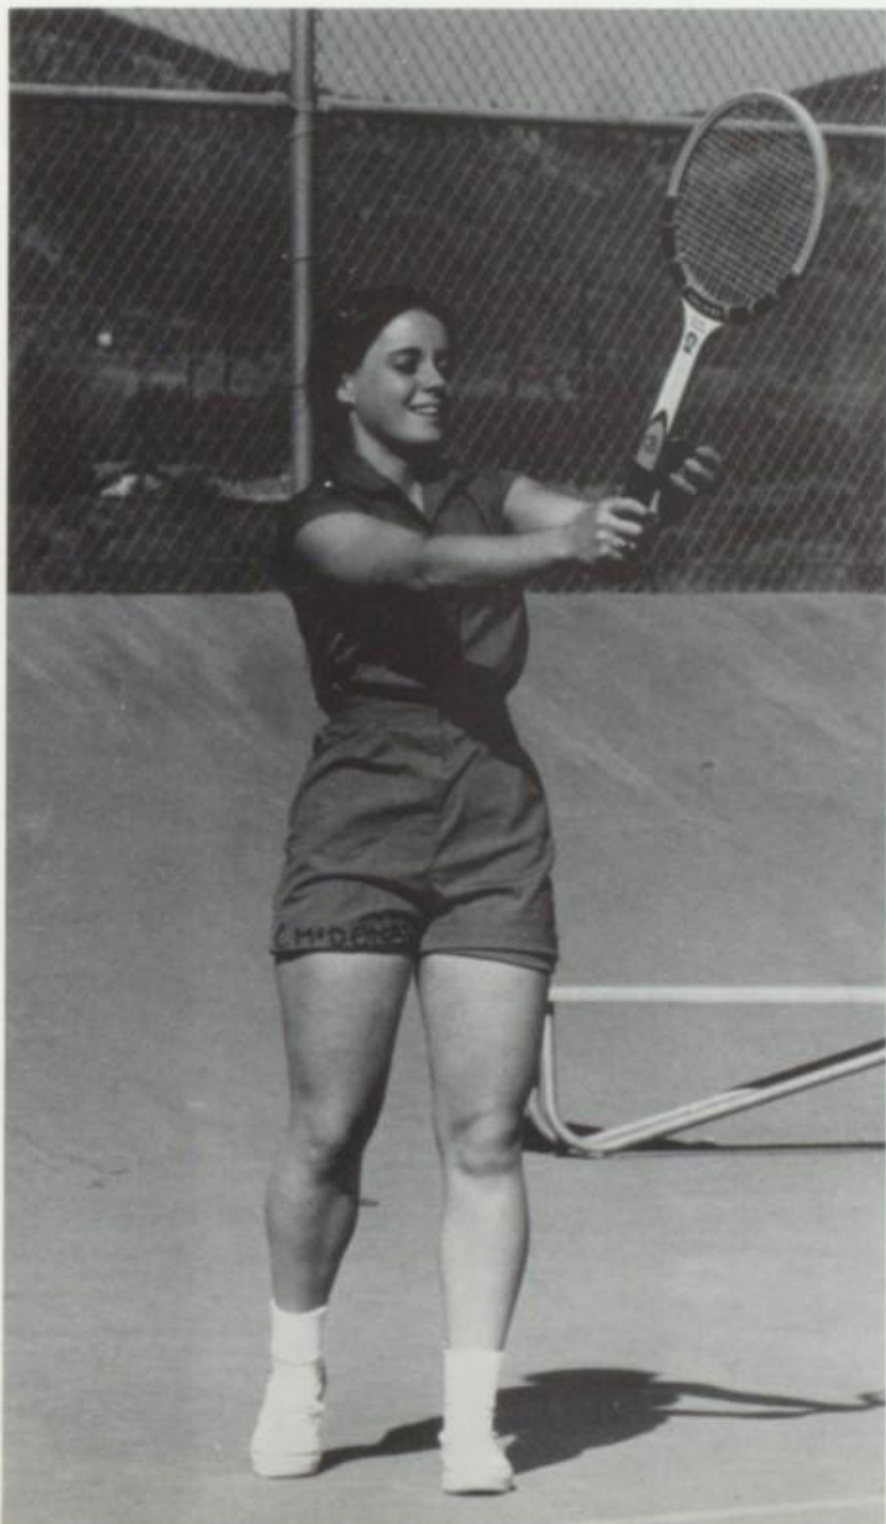

Teri Darden waits anxiously for the pitcher to make her move. Right: Sue Gilman swings into action.

"I've got it," is heard over the enthusiasm of GAA Volleyball.

"If this one makes it over the net, we're winners!" says Kim Prodder.

I can truly say that this has been a year I will not forget. You have not reason to feel that you did not teach us, despite the grades. We have seen some one who is honest about her emotions and feelings and that is hard to forget.

Many thanks and love.

"Always thought I'd enjoy a twin, but four of me?" asks Katrina Magnuson

Dear Mrs. Dahlgvist,
I don't usually write in yearbooks, because it always sounds as if we'll never see each other again. and that this is the end of something that's really just beginning. I don't know if I've failed your class, but it doesn't matter, because I know I grew and I know I learned, so I'm happy anyway (I don't call that failing). I only regret that I couldn't express myself better. There's so much inside me that's just not ready to come out. I need to live a little bit more, but I seem to be repeating so much (I might even be in your class next year). I think if your class was my only one, I could've done fantastic, but too many things got in the way.

We, the staff of the Paw Print, would like to express our gratitude to Larry O'Connor, our photographer; Rodney Wayne Caro, our cover artist; Mr. Colell, who in his spare time took pictures; the News Chronicle, for the pictures they gave us, and John Stephenson, who stuck with us through all, giving us advice, moral support, and many sleepless nights.

The Paw Print Staff.

We ran together
searching volumes of knowledge
upon reality—
unexpected treasure found unwritten
We explored our newfound Truths
together—
he led in joyful pursuit of a dream
I followed
beginning to understand,
crying small golden tears of caring.
We ran together
but I, confronted with my weakness
faltered
stumbled fell ended
while he,
rising with his infinite strength,
met Truth with courage,
turned
and followed,
gazing backward only once to give me a smile (all red and brown and joyous and radiating warmth)
and then he left me
crying
a few small golden tears of caring and with knowledge enough and joy enough
for the healing of all the small broken dreams I'll ever have . . .
